INTRODUCTION

This course will focus on the fundamentals of the American political system, particularly the political behavior of American citizens and the political institutions that share in governing this country. Special emphasis will be put on the impact individuals have on the political system and the responsiveness of the government to various groups in our society. By the end of the course, students should have an improved understanding of: (1) how the American political system works, (2) how individual citizens think about and influence politics, and (3) how to analyze current political events critically.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS

Bond, J. R., & Smith, K. B. (2013). Analyzing American Democracy: Politics and Political Science. New York, NY: Routledge. [ISBN: 978-0415810517]

Miroff, B., Seidelman, R., & Swanstrom, T. (2012). Debating Democracy: A Reader in American Politics (7th ed.). Boston, MA: Wadsworth Publishing. [ISBN: 978-0495913474]

ACHIEVEMENT-CENTERED EDUCATION (ACE) OUTCOMES

This course has been approved for Learning Outcome #6 (Use knowledge, theories, methods, and historical perspectives appropriate to the social sciences to understand and evaluate human behavior) and Learning Outcome #8 (Explain ethical principles, civics, and stewardship, and their importance to society). Opportunities to achieve these outcomes will be provided by attending class lectures. Your ability to achieve these outcomes will be assessed through the exams and writing assignments.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Exams (50%). You are required to take two midterm exams and a final exam. Exams will be primarily multiple choice, but may include some short answer or essay questions. Midterm exams will focus on new material only and the final exam will be cumulative (covering material from the entire semester).

Reaction Papers (20%). Students will use the assigned chapters from the Debating Democracy reader to write brief reaction papers (2-3 typed, double-spaced pages) where the student will outline and support his or her position on the debate while addressing the strength of each author's arguments. Reaction papers are due by noon the day before class and should be submitted on Blackboard (see course schedule for specific deadlines). This will enable me to read through your thoughts and questions prior to our class meeting.

Discussion Leading (5%). Each student will be asked to lead discussion in class on one of the assigned chapters from the Debating Democracy reader. A sign-up sheet will be circulated during the first week of class and I will give you additional guidelines for the assignment.

Final Paper (15%). At the end of the semester, your final paper assignment will be to write a research paper tackling some of the big questions/debates in American politics. We will go over the details of the assignment in class. The final product will be a paper that is 8-10 typed, double-spaced pages. Final papers will be due Wednesday, 4/30, by 9:30am, and should be submitted on Blackboard.

Participation and Attendance (10%). Your participation will be based on attendance and active participation in discussion. I will focus on both the quantity and the quality of your contributions when determining participation grades. In other words, the goal should be to contribute often, but also to make sure that any contributions are valuable to the class discussion. Completion of in-class activities will also count toward your participation grade.

Exam #1	75
Exam #2	75
Final Exam	100
Reaction Papers	100
Discussion Leading	25
Final Paper	75
Participation	50
-----
Total	500

GRADES

Final grades are based on a possible 500 points and will be based on the distribution and percentages below. In general, I don't round up or assign extra points at the end of the semester. Final grades may be curved up for everyone in the class only if the overall class average is below a B- (< 80%). I will use Blackboard throughout the semester to post grades so that you can keep track of your progress. Incompletes are only given under extreme circumstances, and at the sole discretion of the instructor.

Points (out of 500)	Percentage	Letter Grade
485	97%	A+
465	93%	A
450	90%	A-
435	87%	B+
415	83%	B
400	80%	B-
385	77%	C+
365	73%	C
350	70%	C-
335	67%	D+
315	63%	D
300	60%	D-
< 300	< 60%	F

COURSE POLICIES

Deadlines and Completion of Coursework

Late assignments will not be accepted, and make-up exams will not be given. Should you miss any exam or assignment without an approved excuse, you will receive a zero grade for that exercise. In rare circumstances, an exception may be granted to a student who provides a validated excuse to the instructor prior to the paper due date or exam date. If you foresee being unable to turn in a paper or take an exam on the assigned date, contact the instructor immediately. Excused absences for University sponsored events (field trips, athletic trips) and medical or personal emergencies must be documented.

Attendance, Preparation, and Participation

Regular attendance at lecture is required, and unexcused absences will hurt your participation grade. Absences will be excused only for medical/personal emergencies or university sponsored events, documentation of the absence will be required, and you must notify me in advance. Reading assignments are to be completed before class meetings. You should be prepared at all times to discuss the readings and concepts scheduled for each class period. This is genuinely necessary for your success in this course. You must carefully read all of the assigned material, take notes while you read, and take good notes in class in order to perform well on the exams. Your participation grade and, more importantly, the quality of class discussions hinges largely upon your preparation and your informed contributions. This class will be more enjoyable and productive for all of us if everyone comes prepared!

Communication

The best way to reach me is through email. I check it often (more often than I check voicemail) and will do my best to respond to your questions within 24 hours. You are also welcome and encouraged to stop by my office during office hours, or make an appointment to meet with me at another time. I will send announcements electronically, so please check your email and the course website often.

Academic Misconduct Warning

All work must be your own. Plagiarism and all other forms of cheating outlined by the University's Student Code of Conduct (Section 4.2) will not be tolerated in this class. Cheating or plagiarism will be reported through official university channels, and the consequences will be severe. The minimum punishment is usually failure in the course. No one exam or assignment is ever worth this penalty. To avoid missing out on a good college GPA, or even your degree, keep your eyes on your own test and write your own papers.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact the instructor for a confidential discussion of their individual needs for academic accommodation. It is the policy of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to provide flexible and individualized accommodation to students with documented disabilities that may affect their ability to fully participate in course activities or to meet course requirements. To receive accommodation services, students must be registered with the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) office, 132 Canfield Administration, 472-3787 voice or TTY.

POLS 100H | COURSE SCHEDULE

Due dates for assignments and exams, as well as required readings, are listed below. Readings should be completed prior to class. Please note that this schedule represents a tentative plan and is subject to change at the instructor’s discretion. Any changes will be announced in class.

Please note--reading assignments are labeled as follows:
